ONGOING GROUPS

New Hope Center for Grief Support offers loss-specific ongoing peer support groups for those grieving the loss of a loved one. We have groups that meet in person throughout Southeastern Michigan and several that meet virtually. New Hope peer support groups are open to all and are always FREE of charge.

STORIES OF IMPACT

Before I held it all in. I didn't want my misery to make other people sad...I understand now that bringing it to these groups and sharing my pains and sharing my experiences isn't making other people sad. It's letting us come together in a camaraderie and help heal each other as we are moving forward on this path of grief that we are on.
- Ongoing Group Participant

"I feel less hopeless and more able to cope."	"I can laugh again."	"Courage to face things alone. Commitment to self-care. More confidence."
"Grief brain is normal and will improve, everyone's grief journey and triggers are different."		"I feel that I am growing stronger as a person because of the support I've received in groups."
"Everyone is kind and supportive, plus they get it."	"Being with people that can relate to my grief, with no judgement."	"I was really struggling until I found the group."
